

We clip the following from the Ohio Eagle:

"We hear a great deal said about Catholic intolerance and Catholic prescription, but what rank hypocrisy."

"What rank hypocrisy," eh? That is just what the Pope's minions have been trying to impress upon the minds of the American people for years past; but how far the teachings of their Divines and journalists coincide with their hypocritical pretensions can be seen by the following extracts:

Bishop O'Connor, of Pittsburgh, says: "Religious Liberty is merely endured until the opposite can be carried into execution without peril to the Catholic world."

To direct public attention to the above proscription, anti-Republican sentiment from the lips of a Catholic Bishop, the Ohio Eagle would call "Rank hypocrisy." Again, the following from the Shepherd of the Valley, will doubtless be termed, by the editors of the Eagle, harmless and inoffensive, and to call it any thing else would be "rank hypocrisy."

"Religious liberty, in the sense of a liberty possessed by every man to choose his own religion, is one of the most wicked delusions ever foisted upon this age by the father of deceit."

So much for the "rank hypocrisy" of the American people in alluding to the proscription tendencies of the Church of Rome. But let us travel a little further into the Romish literature and see what their learned Divines say in regard to the great American Common School System. Beginning the Eagle's pardon for not calling its attention to this matter at an earlier day we trust it will not find it unprofitable even at this late day, to calmly peruse the following from a lecture delivered by the Rev. Dr. MANNING in 1853. The Doctor says:

"The exclusive right to educate belongs to the Church. Either this must be her exclusive right, or the powers granted her are of no avail. We are, moreover, bound not to expose our own and our children's salvation to the dangers inseparable from un-Catholic education; must, therefore, have recourse to Catholic education, not as a matter of choice, but absolute obligation."

Again he says: "Is not education, in fact, the engine and instrument now hoped most from against the Church? Is it not, in fact, a conspiracy against Catholicity—this common educational system of common schools and mixed schools?"

Bowdoin, in his Review, says: "Our enemies rely upon Godless schools—State education as a means of checking the progress of Catholicity. We must admit they have laid their plans with infernal skill. The result will not meet their anticipations, however."

The New Orleans Catholic Messenger echoes the above sentiments in the following strain: "Public Schools infringe on our rights, and those who advocate them, such as they now are, would be betrayers of the Holy Faith which they received from their fathers."

Archbishop Hughes' organ, the Freeman's Journal, chimes in as follows: "Certainly it seems as if the Devil were let loose upon the Godless schools to render them abhorrent even to Pagan nature."

The Western Tablet goes a step further, if possible, and makes use of the following language, which is enough to arouse the most lethargic from fancied security.—The Tablet says:

"Parents must first come to feel the dangers of the Godless schools so profoundly as to forego with alacrity all the apparent advantages they afford, and to dream no more of consigning their offspring to these nurseries of heathenism, vice, and crime, than they would of casting their children into some Ganges, or beneath some car of Juggernaut, or immolating them to some grim and bloody Moloch, or making them over, soul and body, for time and eternity, to the Devil."

It remains, however, for the Ohio Eagle to put the grand climax on the whole, by declaring every allusion to these damnable sentiments "rank hypocrisy." We had hoped there was not a man in the Union, who had received the benefits of a Common School education, who would thus boldly and openly stand up as the apologist of the Romish Church in its war upon the educational interests of this Republic. There is, perhaps, nothing of more importance to the happiness of our people and perpetuity of our institutions, and which has a more direct bearing in equalizing all ranks and professions, than the cultivation of the mental powers and the acquisition of useful and substantial knowledge. On the acquisition of knowledge and the corresponding course of conduct to which it leads, depend the happiness of our fellow-men, considered both as an individual, and as a member of the great family to which by government he is attached. A community may be generally considered as virtuous as it is intelligent, and this general intelligence has heretofore and probably always will be received through the channel of our Common Schools, which may be said, in one sense, the mighty bulwark of our Liberty. As intelligence and virtue are the controlling and guiding-star to the permanency of any Republic, to the opposite, ignorance and vice, are the vehicles of bigotry, prejudice, barbarity and wickedness. It can readily be seen, therefore, why it is that the Romish Church entertains such rank hatred for the American Common School System, for it sees in it means of intelligence that will in due time dissipate the mists of ignorance and superstition now hanging over the deluded followers of the Roman Pontiff.

The Romish Church has opened its eyes to the fact that where the archimedian power of the Common Schools has been brought to bear, free and open to all, untrammelled by Church or sect, Republicanism does, must and will exist.

Let the people be educated, and we, as Americans have no cause to fear the insidious, crafty and deceitful diplomacy of any pope, despot or barbarian. The Romish Church knows this fact, hence its untiring and bitter opposition to the spread of general intelligence among the masses. One of the first and universal steps taken by the Church of Rome to establish its supremacy is to blot out the lamp of general intelligence, as embodied or disseminated by and through our Common Schools. Monarchy and Absolutism disappears before the irresistible power of knowledge like the drapery mist before the bright glory of the rising sun. Let the masses be educated, we say, and the Republic stands on an immortal basis. Despotism cannot exist in the atmosphere of general intelligence—it never did nor never can. Education is the forerunner of civilization.

The grand difference for the superiority of the intelligence of Americans over foreigners, in relation to our civil and political polity, arises in the fact that Americans are American educated, which is a Republican education; whereas, foreigners, have a foreign education, either under the superintendency of Monarchy or Popery, and of course, therefore, antagonistic to religious and civil liberty. These are the natural, inseparable results, as effect must follow cause. We say, therefore, let us in defiance of all Popish opposition have American Schools, an American education, and American Republicanism as secured to us through our Common Schools.

Our Consular System.

The Diplomatic and Consular bill, now before Congress, abolishes all outposts and affixes a regular salary to each mission.—Ministers to Great Britain, $17,000 annually; to France and China, each $15,000; to Spain, Russia, Austria, Prussia, Brazil and Mexico, $12,000 each; to Peru, $10,000; to Turkey and Chili, $9,000 each, to all other countries to which Ministers are now sent, 7,500 each; making an aggregate for twenty-eight full ministers of $269,500. The Secretaries of Legation are to receive salaries of two grades, to wit: $1,000 and $1,500 a year. The salaries of the Commissioners to the Sandwich Islands is to be $6,000. Consuls are to receive salaries varying from $1,000 to $7,500 that of Amsterdam being the lowest, and those of Liverpool and London being the highest. They are not to transact any other business. Charges upon invoices and for revising passports are abolished. Commercial agents are appointed at about one hundred different points.

When the country comes to understand the character of this political Juggernaut, and its vile machination, the people will arouse and obliterate from existence this worse than Spanish Inquisition.—Ohio Eagle.

It is truly laughable to hear the "Eagle" talk. If the Eagle will but take the pains to consult the election returns of last fall we think it must necessarily open its eyes to the fact that "the people" are pretty generally acquainted with this great "political Juggernaut." And if we can properly read the signs of the times, it is their intention to agitate the "old machine" in motion next fall. If the editors of the Eagle are not willing to witness the sacrifice we would advise them to start as soon as possible to Holland. Nothing short of that will save their "phelkins." We are informed that this Juggernaut the Eagle speaks of is now in the keeping of "Sam," under whose direction it is undergoing a thorough renovation, and will be graced and in first rate running order by the second Tuesday of October next.

You now say that the "Sag Nichte" are composed of "Catholics" and, who are bound by the "sanctity of an oath" in "every vote they give on the most trivial question." How does this tally with your former reiterated assertions that the Catholics are bound to the Pope, and that they can take no obligations to any body or principle,—are traitors, and every thing else, owing to the fact that they can not take any other obligations save those imposed by your friend aforesaid, the Pope. Which opinion do you mean to stick to? That the Catholics are bound to the Pope, or to the Sag Nichte?—Ohio Eagle.

As the order of Sag Nichte is but one of numerous branches to the secret order of Jesuits, we would inform you that we can very consistently stick to both. The oath of the Jesuit is alike obligatory on the "Sag Nichte." Both sworn to accomplish the same thing, viz: The overthrow of our Government. Besides this, it is pretty generally believed that the Bishop of Erie was the prime originator of the Sag Nichte in this city, and administered the first oath to his zealous co-laborers in the Jesuitical cause, viz: the Governor and the editors of the Ohio Eagle.

Here then we have what is the "law of the order." Now, a large majority of the members being which, it is easy to see that when "nominations" are to be "made by the order," whigs make them, and then under the gag of an oath, "an unvarnished ticket must be voted by every man in it."—Ohio Eagle.

How can you get over the fact that a majority of those elected by the Know Nothings last Fall were formerly members of the Democratic party—Democrats. Thus you see your article carries a falsehood on its face.

NEWS GLEANINGS.

A bill has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Senate authorizing the Governor to offer for sale at auction, in the city of Philadelphia, the main line of public works of that State. The works not to be sold below seven million of dollars. The terms of payment are consequent upon the amount the works sell for—the credit running from five up to twenty years.

During Tyler's administration Congress passed a bill into a law in spite of the President's veto. It was an act respecting the building of revenue cutters. After the veto, the vote in the Senate stood—ayes 41, noes 1. In the House, the vote stood—ayes 127, noes 30. Is there another instance of the kind in the history of our government?

A destructive fire occurred near the depot in Springfield, Massachusetts, on the morning of the 2d inst. The brick block owned by C. W. Chapin and occupied by Greenleaf & Taylor, paper dealers; Brown & Graves, Hardware; and Nelson & Elmer, Boot & Shoe dealers. The loss is about $10,000. Fully insured.

The Cleveland Herald says an efficient agent is taking the census of that city.—Six wards have been canvassed, which give a population of 31,000. The remaining five wards will increase the number to 47,000. It will be remembered that Cleveland now embraces Ohio city, but the increase is very great since 1850.

The U. S. Senate is discussing in secret session the demand of Benson & Co. on Peru, for indemnity for losses on guano vessels sent out in 1851, under guarantee of protection by State and Navy Departments. The amount claimed is two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It is proposed to request the President to enforce the demand.

The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has granted the Erie and North East Railroad ninety days to change the location of the track in the borough of Erie, and thirty days to change the same at Harbor creek. The rioters at Erie grumble at this, but will probably submit without another outbreak.

The county of Polk, in Oregon, has taxable property to the value of $1,014,455, and a total population of 2,621. It has three flouring mills, six saw mills, (one propelled by steam,) nine stores, and mechanic shops of nearly every kind.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. Benton lost the dates and notes for the 2d volume of his "Thirty Years in the Senate," together with other important documents, books, &c., by the recent destruction of his house, in Washington.

The "Memoirs of James Gordon Bennett," of the New York Herald, it is said, are about to be published. It will do to bind up with the autobiography of Bartram.
